Road Link to Be Dedicated

Event Is Oct. 17 At East Liverpool

Dedication of the East Liverpool link of the 80-mile-long Route 11 freeway to be built between East Liverpool and Ashtabula will be held at East Liverpool Oct. 17 with appropriate ribbon-cutting ceremonies, it was announced when directors of the Lake Erie to Ohio River Highway Association met here Friday at Timberlanes for a noon luncheon.

These plans and reports of other developments on the projected $100 million road that will run north-south through Columbiana and Mahoning counties were outlined by William McKenna, deputy director of Division 11 of the State Highway Department.

The ribbon-cutting is set for 10:30 a.m. Oct. 17, followed by a luncheon at the Travelers hotel in East Liverpool. A. P. Morris of Salem, vice president of the river-lake association, expects to attend.

The second section of the route north of East Liverpool has been awarded to the Great Lakes Construction Co. of Cleveland and work began on the approximate two-mile stretch in August.

"The contractor is progressing rapidly on drainage and grading work," McKenna said. "There is a possibility that this section from State Route 170 Intersection to State Route 267 will be open to traffic late next year."

"Plans are underway in the Division Office to be ready for June on the third section of the highway from State Route 267 to a point east of the original proposed route east of West Point," McKenna added.

"In latest Division 11 revision of plans last week, the road has been re-located between West Point across Route 30 and east of the lake," McKenna said. "The final section of the Columbiana 12-mile stretch of the Lake Erie to Ohio River project will have preparations of plans ready by 1964 to tie-in with the section being worked on by Division Four, near State Route 164."

Rusk, Gromyko Confer on Berlin

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk is expected to try to learn how far the Soviet Union aims to go on Berlin when he meets today with Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko.

The two big power diplomats will have lunch together at the Soviet Mission in their second exchange in 11 days.

Informants said Rusk might also take up the threat posed by the Soviet military buildup in Cuba. Rusk has avoided bringing in Cuba because he did not consider the problem negotiable.

Rusk had been expected to bring up the Berlin issue at his last meeting with Gromyko on Sept. 25. But U.S. sources said time ran out after a long exchange on getting the Communist Vietnamese forces out of Laos and a nuclear test ban.

Some Western diplomats believe the Berlin crisis has eased and that Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev is not eager to rush into a separate peace treaty with East Germany, although he has threatened anew to do so.

Wounded While Helping Escapees

Vopos Stop British From Aiding Man

BERLIN (AP) — East German guards today barred British army and West Berlin Red Cross ambulances from going to the aid of a man wounded on the Communist side of Berlin's wall. The guards also prevented a British officer from getting within 100 yards of the wounded man.

West Berlin police said East German guards fired two tommy-gun blasts at a West Berliner who came out of a tunnel on the East side of the wall about three miles from Checkpoint Charlie, the crossing point for foreigners in the American sector.

A spokesman for the West Berlin government said two refugees reached West Berlin through a tunnel about 8 a.m., and a West Berliner had gone through the tunnel to see if he could help others escape. He was the one wounded.

A British ambulance stationed at Checkpoint Charlie this month to go to the aid of any wounded along the wall received orders to go through the crossing point to the scene of the shooting.

But East German guards refused to raise the barrier to let it through.

After an hour the ambulance pulled back.

A West Berlin Red Cross ambulance also was halted by East German police at the Sonnenallee crossing point.

Lt. Col. Warren Philip Ferrier, British military police chief, then attempted to reach the shooting scene to see if first aid was being administered by the East Germans. The East German guards let him through the checkpoint, but stopped him when he was about 100 yards from the scene.

"We are considering with our Allies, what action should be taken about the refusal," a British

Cardinal Safe As Bomb Rips Cathedral

NEW YORK (AP)—A bomb-like device exploded early today at the St. Patrick's Cathedral residence of Francis Cardinal Spellman. No one, including the cardinal who was asleep on the second floor, was injured when the blast blew out four basement windows.

"It got me up," Cardinal Spellman said of the explosion as he viewed the shattered windows of the unoccupied maid's quarters.

The Roman Catholic archbishop of New York came outside fully dressed in his black clerical suit and white collar and talked with newsmen while a light rain fell.

Asked if he thought the explosion was a kid's prank, the 73-year-old prelate replied seriously, "What do you mean, kids?"

He obviously was reminded of an explosion that chipped a statue and damaged an organ at St. Peter's Basilica in Rome last July 14. That was followed on Sept. 22 by the discovery of two incendiary bombs in St. Peter's that forced its closing until the Second Vatican Council opens next Thursday.

Cardinal Spellman and his aide, Msgr. Timothy J. Flynn, information director of the New York archdiocese, said they knew of no recent threats against either the cardinal or St. Patrick's Cathedral itself.

Flynn said he had no recollection of any bombings at the cathedral before.

Officials Say Ole Miss Near Normal Again

Holiday Weekend Leaves University Nearly Deserted

OXFORD, Miss. (AP) — Booming students and reports of gunfire did little to encourage hopes today that normalcy was returning to the turbulent University of Mississippi campus.

The sprawling university—scene of riots and bloodshed in which two men were killed and more than 200 injured earlier this week—was practically deserted today.

Ole Miss students, including James H. Meredith, were on a weekend holiday and the homecoming game was 170 miles away in Jackson.

Meredith's whereabouts were not disclosed, but he was believed to be with his wife, a student at Jackson State College for Negroes, and 2-year-old son.

Deputy U.S. Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach held fast to his conviction that "we've gone a long way toward relieving tensions here and getting back to normalcy."

Meredith ate in the university cafeteria again Friday, causing one student to yell: "Who let that coon in here?"

Students jammed into a narrow hallway and hissed at Meredith as he walked from a political science classroom.

"Your life is short," one in the crowd shouted.

The Army said three military policemen were on patrol in a jeep near the campus Friday. A car sped past in the opposite direction and one Army man saw what looked like a pistol pointing from the car and heard what sounded like shots. No one was hurt, however.

The Army earlier hauled down roadblocks at university entrances and the Justice Department severely trimmed the number of marshals stationed in Oxford.

Some 8,000 Mississippi National Guard troops got the order to go home, and the Army said it was releasing 3,500 troops outright. The other 4,500 were allowed to return home but remained under federal control. Regular Army troops remained on duty.

Only 20 marshals would be on duty by Monday, the Justice Department said. At the peak of the trouble, there were more than 400 in Oxford and around the university.

Justice Department spokesmen said earlier the time would come when Mississippi authorities would have to assume responsibility for Meredith's safety. But there was little indication from any Mississippi official this would be forthcoming.

Pictures Reveal 'Serious Situation'

Probe Continues Into Flight Safety Violations

WASHINGTON (AP) — N. E. Halaby, federal aviation administrator, says that if photographs and testimony of cockpit shenanigans are verified they indicate "a very serious condition existed" in airline operations and "could possibly exist today."

Halaby told a news conference Friday that some of the photographs produced within the past two weeks have been verified as authentic, "and we think many of them will be."

Some of the photos showed shapely blondes sitting in pilots' laps and actually at the controls, a donkey wandering through an airliner and pilots dozing.

The man who said he took some of the pictures—Trans World Airlines flight engineer William J. Miller—told a House subcommittee Wednesday that he also saw pilots sleeping or reading magazines on 75 per cent of the flights he was on.

Four Vie for County Judge Posts

Races for Two Courthouse Posts To Highlight Election

Four candidates are preparing to head into the home stretch in campaigns for two Courthouse posts that will highlight the Nov. 6 general election in Columbiana County.

With the trek to the polls set just a month from today, the county's voters also will choose three members of the minor judiciary—the so-called county court judges—and help elect an 18th District congressman and a state senator from the 20th-22nd District.

Although they're well down on the ballot, the two Courthouse posts will attract the most voter interest in the off-year election.

In both instances, incumbent Democrats are running for second terms against Republican nominees.

The Democrats are Commissioner Frank C. Wilson and Auditor Kenneth Bell, both Wellsville residents.

Their GOP opponents are James W. Boyd of St. Clair Ave. Ext., nominee for commissioner, and T. Emerson Smith of Salem, picked by his party in the May primaries to run for auditor.

Boyd is operator of a lumber company at Glenmoor, and Smith is a salesman for a dairy concern and a former member of the County Election Board.

Both Wilson and Bell were renominated without opposition by the Democratic party in the May primaries.

The two hold-over commissioners both are Republicans. They are Walter A. Hunston of East Palestine and Galen Greenisen of near Salem.

A third Courthouse post will be filled without a contest. Common Pleas Judge Raymond S. Buzzard of East Liverpool is assured of re-election because he has no opponent on the non-partisan judicial ballot.

He was renominated without opposition on the GOP ticket at the primary. The hold-over member of the county bench is Judge Joel H. Sharp of Salem, also a Republican.

Five candidates are seeking three seats as county court judges, with two to be named for four-year terms and the other to be chosen for a two-year tenure.

Since he is unopposed for the short term, Atty. James L. MacDonald is assured of re-election. Now serving a four-year term, he presides in the Lisbon Court.

A former county prosecutor, Judge MacDonald resides at Lisbon

Continues Campaign Tour

JFK Makes Plea for Democratic Congress

DETROIT (AP) — President Kennedy, picking up where he left off in 1960, sweeps through Michigan and into Minnesota today with a familiar plea: he needs a strong Democratic Congress, he says, to get this nation moving economically.

His busy schedule includes stops in Flint and Muskegon, then it's on to St. Paul tonight for a traditional beef feed dinner and traditional speechmaking.

This is Kennedy's first big political trip since he campaigned for the presidency in 1960, and he plans to hustle out each Friday for a long weekend of politicking until election day Nov. 6.

On the basis of his showing Friday, it would appear that Kennedy is:

1. Getting more zip into his oratory as he begs for votes for others than he did when he was working for himself in 1960.

2. Sticking with a theme that he has used again and again, that it's the Republicans who are blocking legislation that would make this nation move faster.

3. Drawing crowds as large, or almost as large, as those who turned out during the 1960 campaign. But these crowds are far more sedate. No squealers, few jumpers.

In Cincinnati Kennedy even ran into some hecklers.

As he spoke he looked out on placards, held high, that bore such sentiments as these:

"We licked Mississippi. How about Cuba?"

"Less profile, more courage. Blockade Cuba."

In an attempt to answer these criticisms, Kennedy said, "This last administration ignored Latin America for eight years, and we paid the price."

But mostly it was a repeated plea to elect Democrats, coupled with scornful words for Republicans.

At his first stop, at the Greater Cincinnati Airport, Kennedy explained why he was out campaigning.

"While any administration and any President can make pro-

Chicago Man Key In Liquor Dept. Probe

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A grand jury investigation into charges of influence peddling in Ohio's liquor department appeared to hinge today on whether a Chicago distiller can be brought to Ohio to testify.

Judge Robert M. Draper of the Franklin County Common Pleas Court has issued a court order to pick up Joseph H. Makler, president of Waterfall and Frazier Distillers, as a material witness in the investigation.

The order was issued under uniform compulsory attendance laws which provide for bringing persons from those states with similar laws into Ohio "to testify in criminal prosecutions or grand jury investigations commenced or about to commence."

Theodore R. Saker, first assistant attorney general who asked for the court order, said the calling of a grand jury will depend upon whether Makler can be brought to Ohio either under court order or voluntarily. He said the grand jury will be called as soon as Makler is in the state. Makler is not expected to return to his Chicago office until the first of next week. He has not commented on Ohio's request that he testify.

Makler claims to have paid to his whisky brands listed in the state-owned Ohio liquor stores.

Saker said the court order will not be delivered to Cook County, Illinois, until next Tuesday. The delay is caused, he said, by the fact that a draft for $85 for mileage and witness fees for Makler must accompany the court order.

DeGaulle Calls New Elections; Pompidou Quits

Crisis Is First In Cabinet In More Than Four Years

PARIS (AP) — President De Gaulle decided today to dissolve the French National Assembly and call new elections.

A communique from Elysee Palace—the French White House—said De Gaulle had "taken note" of the resignation of Premier Georges Pompidou, submitted this morning. Pompidou was asked to stay at his post until the new assembly is elected and installed.

Pompidou had been forced to resign by an Assembly vote of censure early Friday.

No date was announced for the elections but speculation centered on the dates of Nov. 4 and 11, although the president might decide to delay the balloting until late November.

The French electorate already has been called to the polls Oct. 28 to vote on De Gaulle's referendum proposal for popular election of future French presidents.

Pompidou spent 40 minutes with the president.

Then De Gaulle called in Senate President Gaston Monnerville and Assembly President Jacques Chaban-Delmas. De Gaulle is required to consult with them as well as the premier before ordering dissolution of the Assembly.

Monnerville, one of the leading opponents of De Gaulle's plans to amend the constitution through a referendum, remained in the palace only a matter of minutes, indicating that the meeting was as cool as it was brief.

Pompidou seemed rested and relaxed following his defeat, bringing about the first cabinet crisis in more than four years.

Informants close to De Gaulle said that while he will accept Pompidou's resignation he will ask him to remain on with full policy making powers for the present. Past tradition has been that an ousted premier becomes a mere caretaker until a new government is formed.

De Gaulle wants to revise the constitution by referendum so that future presidents will be elected by popular vote. At present, presidents are named by an electoral college of some 80,000 members of Parliament and local and regional officials.

All but a small group of ardent Gaullist politicians argue that Parliament must have its say in constitutional revision. Most

Community Chest Agencies:

Catholic Charities 'Business' Is Giving Aid

Doors of Salem's Catholic Charities Bureau, one of the agencies which will receive a part of the money collected in this year's United Fund drive, are opened from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. five days each week at 544 E. State St.

The bureau's business is giving assistance (sometimes material, sometimes directional) to needy children and families. Of the 151 families and individuals helped by Catholic Charities in Columbiana County last year, 73 were residents of Salem.

Individuals and families needing help are referred to the bureau by pastors, courts and other agencies; and persons in distress may themselves initiate an appeal to the bureau. A sizable portion of the cases reaching the E. State St. office involves problems of children who have become victims of improper home care. In some instances, material help and/or direction to the parents will enable them to provide proper care for the youngsters. In other cases, the removal of children from their parents may be urgently necessary, on a temporary or permanent basis. Part of the bureau's job is locating suitable foster homes for children.

Last year, administrative costs for the Salem office were $3,328; and direct expenditures to individuals and families here totaled $3,398. An annual parish collection for Catholic Charities defers more than half of the expenses of the bureau's operation. Another of the bureau's sources of income is support payments from parents.

Executive secretary of the Salem Catholic Charities bureau is Miss Mary Catherine Donahue, in her 17th year as a social case worker. Holder of a bachelor of philosophy degree, Miss Donahue has done graduate work at Michigan and Youngstown Universities.

Protective care for children, service to the aged, and help to unmarried mothers are her concern as a Catholic Charities worker.

Two Evangelists To Preach Sermons at Pilgrim Church

Two women evangelists will preach the sermons for the revival meetings scheduled at the Pilgrim (Interdenominational) Church, Depot Rd., beginning next Friday and continuing through Sunday, Oct. 21, each evening at 7:30.

The evangelists are: Rev. Virginia Miller and Rev. Ethel MacFadden, both of Haverhill, Mass. This is the second series of meetings the women have held at this church. Rally day will be observed Oct. 21 with special features.

Rev. Harold E. Schmul, who assumed the pastorate of this church Sept. 1, will conduct the services and assist with the music. His wife, Lois, is a pianist and singer.

For seven years Rev. Schmul as pastor of the Wesleyan Methodist Church in Rochester, Pa., previous to his travels in evangelistic work.

He is a co-founder with Rev. Robb French of the nationwide Interdenominational Holiness Conventions and is still active in this organization. He is in Kansas this week in the interest of IHC.

Rev. Schmul recently made a trip to the Holy Land and also visited mission stations in Egypt and Africa, which are supervised by Rev. Victor Glenn.

Rev. Duncan Campbell, Scotland evangelist, who had a part in the New Hebrides revival, has been invited by Rev. Schmul to speak at IHC activities in this country.

The Schmuls reside at the corner of W. State St. and Georgetown Rd. They have two sons, Harold E., Jr., 18, a sophomore at Mt. Union College, and Bradley, 5, who is enrolled in Prospect Street School kindergarten.

Rev. Schmul succeeds Rev. George Watson, who is currently pastor of the Evangelical Wesleyan Church, at Aliquippa, Pa.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

What's Happening to the Dream?

There is no way Secretary of State Rusk can conceal from the foreign statesmen he deals with that the United States has been paying more attention the last few days to a problem inside its borders than it has been paying to the problem that has grown into ugly existence 90 miles away, in the Caribbean Ocean.

In his conference this week with the foreign ministers of Latin America he has been handicapped by this diversion of popular attention. Latin American visitors to Washington are painfully aware that they are the representatives of countries whose people are not white.

They are aware, also, that Secretary Rusk and the government of the United States are still doing everything they can to put more backbone into a proposition that has been an American dream since the end of World War I.

THE PROPOSITION is simple in theory but hopelessly and endlessly complicated in practice—that nations which have survived the aggressions of past centuries can combine with new nations to achieve collective security in the 20th century.

This was the goal of the League of Nations, which failed. It is the goal of the United Nations, which has not yet succeeded. In theory, simple. In practice, complicated.

Collective security is unattainable without mutual respect.

It is unattainable without cooperation. It becomes a mockery when a sea power like Britain spurns a suggestion to withhold commercial maritime service to Cuba; when Britain and other powers curtly declare that Cuba is a problem only for the United States.

That was the downfall of the League of Nations. Ethiopia, undergoing invasion by Mussolini's "blackshirts" was not a problem collective action. China, undergoing invasion Chinese.

THE PROSPECTS for collective security in the New World are not bright. They are so gloomy that many U.S. citizens doubt that the possibilities are worth exploring; they want their government to go it alone. They despair of collective security in North Atlantic Treaty Organization as of Europe and are as contemptuous of the Organization of American States, or Southeast Asia Treaty Organization.

Is the American theory of collective security—the dream of a world in which violence and bloodshed could be restrained by cooperation—being shattered by the impact of events?

Is cooperation only a will-of-the-wisp that flees from the human race because know so much more about hate and violence than they ever tried to learn about mutual understanding and tolerance?

Just Answer Yes Or No

If it's really true that the Kennedy administration will get tougher about shipping that makes it easier for the Russians to carry out their purposes in Cuba, President Kennedy's popularity will move up a few notches with both his friends and his critics.

As laymen, we do not pretend to know about the international laws mixed up in blockades and embargoes. But as U.S. citizens we pretend to know something about the relationships mixed up in requests for help in keeping Cuba from being befooled up as a Russian enclave in the New World.

There is a pat comparison between Cuba and Berlin in this respect.

Russia jumped at a chance to bleed the United States and its allies when it closed off Berlin in 1948. It made them pay through the nose for every ton of supplies that reached the city. The Berlin airlift organized to offset the blockade was a great triumph of determination over difficulty, but it was one of the costliest triumphs of the cold war.

If the United States now gets down to hard cases on shipping to Cuba, it will give its supposed friends and allies a chance to answer yes or not to the question of whether they are for it or against it. They can quit sending ships to Cuba or they can tell the United States to get lost.

That's all the people of this country and their representatives and senators want to know—who will pay the price of real friendship and who puts a quick turnover ahead of friendship.

If Russia wants to supply Cuba the hard way—the way it made the United States and its allies supply Berlin—lots of luck. It would be a bankrupting operation if it could be carried out successfully. And if tried and it turned out to be a flop, the Russians could kiss their prestige in Latin America goodbye.

Let's Keep Salem Fire Loss Low

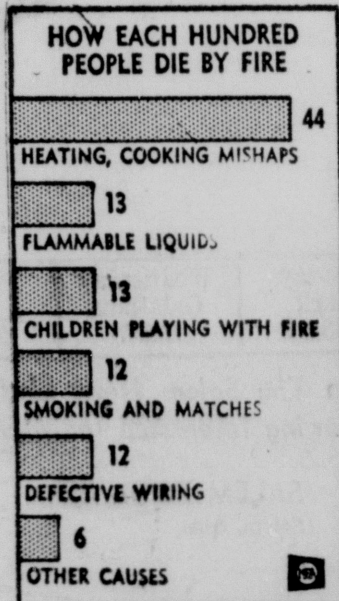

Fires take a staggering toll of life and property!

Salem's Fire Chief, Elmer Bush, is in receipt of statistics from the National Fire Protection Association which show that every day in the United States there are about 1,525 home fires, 11 school fires, 105 blazes in factories and 31 deaths by fire. The value of property damaged or destroyed during the first six months this year alone was in excess of 680 million dollars, a seven per cent gain over 1961. Last year in the nation 11,700 persons perished in fires, 6,100 in home fires.

This is Fire Prevention Week and is being observed locally as well as nationally. Salem firemen make regular inspections of public buildings for fire hazards but they must rely on individuals to take preventive steps in their own homes.

Each of us should have enough concern for the welfare of our loved ones to ferret out possible fire hazards in our homes and Fire Prevention Week, right before the winter season, is a good time to start.

It is an undeniable fact that most fires are the result of failure to take necessary preventive measures.

Cotton Corners

By Truman Twill

Dear Nephew: I wish you would quit trying to rub off your blues on us. Your last letter sounded like a suicide note.

Your trouble is that you have been expecting the human race to improve across the board. That can't be done.

It will improve person by person, if at all.

When we talked about the improbability of mankind we're not thinking of the whole race. We're thinking of its improvable specimens.

No matter how much improvement we make, the people at the bottom of the heap will be as raunchy as ever.

After a few thousand years of civilization, there has been no over-all upgrading of quality. We have been able to improve only the improvable who happened to be in the right place at the right time.

What we're getting at is a way to protect you against being disillusioned every time the barbarians in your own backwash run amuck. You are making the mistake of believing this is unbecoming of them.

That's where you're wrong. It would be unbecoming of you, but it's natural for them because this is all they know how to do.

Not until they know better can they be expected to do better.

Can you say for a fact that if you had been born and raised in Mississippi you would not be screaming dirty words at some dark-skinned brother who reminded you that his citizenship rights were as good as yours?

If Mississippians making themselves ridiculous had been born in New Hampshire they would think Mississippians are making fools of themselves.

When we talk about achieving an ideal condition in which human beings would quit hashing in each other's skulls we are not talking about upgrading all human beings.

We are talking about a theory as yet unproved that enough human beings can be upgraded to control of those who cannot or who never have been touched by civilization. It will be selective upgrading.

I think of our dear friends the Germans. Some of the most civilized people in the 20th century have been Germans. But when Hitler ran amok, he had no lack of companionship in an orgy of bestiality that would have emptied the stomach of a bushman.

Give up the idea that people in general are getting better.

People in particular may be getting better in specific instances and under special circumstances. That's all we can say — and when we say even that little we must be sure what we're talking about. You wouldn't have wanted to stand on a bench on the University of Mississippi campus last Sunday night and said, "Cheer up, people in general are getting better." Would you?

Your aunt and I are enjoying another football season. She has a new recipe for warding off turkey vultures at night games. Mixes it in a thermos bottle. We haven't seen a turkey buzzard all season, so it works.

Write to us soon and tell us how to vote so we can vote the other way and be sure of backing a winner. Regards to all —

Only Congress Can Use Military To Enforce Laws

By DAVID LAWRENCE

The average man, who doesn't take the time to read the fine print or to analyze the legal questions involved in public

dience to court decrees.

controversies, probably thinks that a president of the United States has the inherent right to send troops to sovereign states to establish law and order and obede-

It may come as a surprise to the average man, therefore, to note that the Constitution does not vest in the president but in Congress alone the power "to provide for calling forth the militia to execute the laws of the Union, suppress insurrections and repel invasions."

The Constitution also says that the federal government shall protect each of the states "against domestic violence," but only "on application of the legislature, or of the (state) executive, when the legislature cannot be convened."

Thus, it is necessary to take a careful look at any laws that Congress has actually passed authorizing the use of armed forces in certain contingencies involving law enforcement.

These statutes are the same ones that existed in 1957 when President Eisenhower sent troops to Little Rock, Ark., to maintain order and to secure the enforcement of a federal court decree. He was criticized then, just as President Kennedy is being criticized today, for acting without express authority.

As this correspondent pointed out at the time of the Little Rock affair, Congress had never provided for the kind of situation then occurring. Neither is there today any law on the statute books or any court decision to cover the circumstances — involving federal troops — that have developed in Mississippi.

THEORETICALLY, U.S. marshals were used in Mississippi as civilians but actually they were backed up by military forces in a situation of domestic violence within a state. In due time arrests could have been made by the marshals for any interference with the court decree itself requiring the admission of James Meredith to the university. But they had no authority to punish violations of state law or to suppress violence. This is solely within the jurisdiction of the state.

Where is the law, moreover, that authorizes marshals and troops to escort Meredith around the campus and provide protection for him for the full year and a half he will be at the university, as U.S. officials promise will be done? Isn't this really an obligation of the State of Mississippi?

Congress has authorized use of federal troops to enforce federal statutes but this does not include court decrees. The Constitution speaks of the use of troops only to enforce federal laws. There is no mention of court decisions or court decrees.

The president is obliged to execute federal laws, but there has been no act of Congress ordering desegregation of public schools. The whole controversy has grown out of a court decision but troops cannot be legally used to enforce it.

PERHAPS the most comprehensive study of this whole legal problem has been made by Alfred J. Scheppe of Seattle, who has often been chairman of important committees of the American Bar Association. He wrote for the "American Bar Association Journal" in February 1958 an article which covers exactly the same points in reference to the Little Rock episode as are being made today in the criticisms of what happened in Mississippi.

It is significant that President Kennedy in his executive order sending armed forces to Mississippi used exactly the same language and citations of federal statutes as did President Eisenhower.

Mr. Scheppe's article was placed in the Congressional Record of Sept. 26, 1962, by Sen. Eastland, chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee. Mr. Scheppe wrote in his final paragraph:

"Hence, whatever excursion is taken through the Constitution and the applicable statutes, one ends with the conclusion that, as of now, the president has no lawful power to use military force to carry out federal court decrees rendered under Article 3 of the Constitution (judicial power provisions)."

ALREADY some doubts are being expressed by champions of integration, too. Thus, the Washington Post, long a leader in the fight against segregation, said that perhaps it would have been wiser to declare martial law — which, of course, the Department of Justice insists it didn't do. The editorial adds:

"It is disquieting, in any case, to learn that, without any declaration of martial law, soldiers are in some instances acting without regard to procedures established by law. The Army was sent into Mississippi expressly to reestablish respect for the Constitution. Its mission can only be corrupted if it behaves in unconstitutional ways."

But the average man may say: "What difference does it make? The purpose is all right anyhow."

For centuries some people have said that "the end justifies the means." Yet that's how "police states" are born, and that's the real reason Moscow is exulting today.

In the Soviet Union there's plenty of racial discrimination but what the Soviets see now in America is a vindication of their practice of using military means to enforce the edicts of the Kremlin.

Man On a White Horse

Next Unionization Target

By VICTOR RIESEL
SAN JOSE, CALIF.

Word has gone out to the impatient strategists of labor's special Operation Organization that D-Day comes after E-Day. Then the target will be Los Angeles, in a union-temperance parade.

D-Day will see the launching of a campaign for 700,000 new members in and around the big southern city. But D-Day won't come until after Election day, which will mark the end of labor's other campaign, the drive to defeat Dick Nixon. California labor leaders have been advised to do nothing that will interfere with, or divert any energies from, the efforts to re-elect Pat Brown on his own frontier.

Plans minutely worked out at a special two-day session last Aug. 20-21 call for moving at least 2,000 experienced union organizers into the Los Angeles area.

All this has been put into a confidential set of documents 31 pages thick. Nothing has been left to chance. The organizers say not one non-unionized factory, (not by name) has gone unaccounted. Industrial Los Angeles has been logged into a master file of some 5,000 cards.

AT THE CLOSED two-day session 75 international union presidents met behind the closed doors of the Washington, D. C. AFL-CIO Executive Council room at 815 16th st. NW.

The men were divided into five groups representing each of the industrial sections they will tackle next November. They heard AFL-CIO president George Meany outline the general operation. Then Walter Reuther, head of the national Organization Committee, outlined his strategy and tactics.

The groups which are their five basic objectives are: "hard goods manufacturing — metal, lumber, wood, furniture, stone, glass, and miscellaneous; soft goods manufacturing — food and allied processing, textile mill products and apparel, paper, printing, publishing, rubber and miscellaneous plastics, petroleum refining and related, chemicals and allied products."

Also "government-federal, city county and state — teachers and fire fighters; wholesale and retail trades; and food, drink and hotels."

THERE WILL BE a central director and a coordinator for each grouping. These strategists will work with a central committee in each section. Each committee will be made up of a representative of each interested union in that special field.

As each central committee gets its share of organizers, staff men, money, public relations experts, economists, lawyers and other technicians, it will decide which plants will become the immediate objectives.

The money and manpower will come out of a central pool, probably directed on the spot by national organizer Jack Livingston, who will answer to national coordinator Walter Reuther, who will consult with George Meany. After a plant is successfully unionized, the central committee of the group will decide into what union the new members will go.

Most of the big plants are in the hard goods category. These will be the target of a special combination of influential national labor organizations:

This division is made up of the Steelworkers, the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, the International Union of Electrical Workers, the United Automobile Workers, Sheet Metal Workers, and the International Assn. of Machinists. These are the powerhouses. They are led by such men as Reuther, Joe Keenan, Gordon Freeman, David McDonald, Al Hayes and Jim Carey.

SO DETAILEDLY has their Operation Organization been planned that they even have the exact number of new members possible in each group. In the metal field, for example, they reckon there are 268,000 who are non-union and therefore eligible. They allow a 20 per cent margin-for-error deduction and put the figure at 214,000. This, they figure, will require 214 organizers.

This is the strategy in each field. If successful in Los Angeles, the drive will be pushed throughout California first and then into Texas and across the country into such targets as Chicago, Philadelphia and other vital industrial sectors.

Most of these men made history in '37. Now—25 years later —they'll try to repeat themselves.

Covering the Candidate

By RAYMOND MOLEY
LOS ANGELES

Democracy has its weird rituals, incantations, and superstitions, just as had divinely inspired royal families and tribal chieftains.

A very important item in democratic practice is the political campaign. The populace believes that it is acquiring the essential wisdom to select an individual to spend its money in public office by witnessing and sometimes participating in the goings-on.

Two harried candidates rush from place to place, performing the symbolic operations of pal-to-palm contact with every outstretched hand, speaking certain words denoting denunciation of the opponent and dedication to the people in their affairs, and giving every manner of pledge of future bestowals of magic benefits.

ATTENDING these rites, managers contrive many sound effects, visual delights, and other diversionary hocus-pocus.

Manufactured enthusiasm is the objective, to convince the people that the election is "in the bag." This, political soothsayers say, will win that indispensable marginal voter who would rather say after the election that he voted for the winner than use his brain to make a rational choice.

A subsidiary rite that attends the main operation is what is called "covering the campaign." This is performed by writers who follow the candidates and prepare material for the newspapers and other media.

Now this routine of covering a campaign is, in fact, older than democracy itself. It is an ancient and highly revered business.

I am not aware that Homer himself covered the siege of Troy. But we do know of the most celebrated reporter of ancient times in his own writing. Xenophon, for the completely mercenary purpose of gain, gathered some Greeks together and wandered far to the East.

There they butted into a gynaecic struggle among the Persians.

THEIR CANDIDATE, Cyrus, was killed in the fraternal slaughter.

and they found themselves in a murderously insupportable situation. There was nothing to do but to start for home, and home was a long, long way off.

We are told of that retreat in what is now revered in classical circles as Xenophon's Anabasis. It is a bloody account, with the Greeks contributing their quota of manslaughter.

I might add for the benefit of modern Xenophons that the ancient reporter finally acquired wealth by capturing somebody who was worth a potful of money. Caesar was a politician as well as a general and wisely covered himself. His account of his meandering, pilfering, and warring in all three parts of Gaul was written to delight the bloody appetites of his fellow Romans. And to this day, high school students pore over its translation. Caesar's constituents were so delighted by the magnitude of his atrocities inflicted on the yokels of Gaul that they wanted to make him king. But that story fell to the pen of another reporter, Plutarch.

Our modern Xenophons are the employees of publishers and managers of other media who want their offerings to be as exciting as possible.

The reporter's task is not easy nor is his burden light. Every great step in the art of communication has made the reporting of what happens more difficult, because it must be done literally on the run.

The means of transportation which accelerate the movements of the candidates make for desperately hurried reports.

The coming of the railroads shipped away hours and days from the time allowed candidates to prepare their remarks and for reporters to tell about them. The coming of air transportation completed the confusion.

THE REPORTER following a candidate ends his day with a blurred impression on his brain of many crowds, millions of faces, many speeches. Here in California one can hardly remember whether the candidate promised something in Yreka City or San Diego.

Moreover, there must be meals, or parts thereof, often snatched at unearthly hours. The reporters must write as they run and sleep wherever they can close their eyes.

Then there is the problem of what they should write. The candidate makes many speeches to many different crowds. Thus there is much repetition. The reporter wonders whether he should not merely write an account of the places covered, with a rough estimate of the number of people who came out and listened, and let it go at that.

To compress into his dispatches all that has been said is impossible. In the 1960 presidential campaign even the correspondents of the newspapers that boast that they print all the news that's fit were reduced to estimates of the size of crowds and the vocal volume of the cheering.

They little noted what the men who aspired to be president said they were going to do about the United States.

And so many of these Exno-phons permit themselves to become cynical even savage in their treatment of their "coveree." They blame him for the bad food, the half-consumed drinks, the miserable hotels and all the attendant physical malaise.

They like candidates who turn aside from the voters to attend to the necessities of the press. Thus, those candidates get the better stories and their opponents get the reportorial digs that so affect the result.

And everyone yearns for the days of McKinley, when a candidate ran on his own front porch.

Thoughts

And when Jesus heard it, he said to him, One thing you still lack. Sell all that you have and distribute to the poor, and you will have treasure in heaven; and come, follow me. Luke 18:22.

In this world, it is not what we take up, but what we give up, that makes us rich. Henry W. Beecher.

Hints From Heloise

By HELOISE CRUSE

DEAR HELOISE: Here is the greatest yet . . . and I just discovered it.

Lipstick stains on napkins come right off if glycerine is applied. Rub this into the stain and let it stand a minute longer. Then wash as usual.

MRS. D. H.

DEAR HELOISE: Need space in that little kitchen and want to save some energy? Just buy some cup hooks and screw them on the inside of your kitchen cabinet door.

Place all kitchen gadgets that will hang on these hooks. Much easier to reach up . . . than to waste energy opening a drawer!

ALICE BOWEN

DEAR HELOISE: On special occasions, I mix a few drops of pure food color in some liquid white shoe polish and apply it to my children's white shoes. This can be washed off easily and the pastel coloring will match any little outfit they happen to have on.

Sputnik Plus Five

(6) Reaching for the Moon

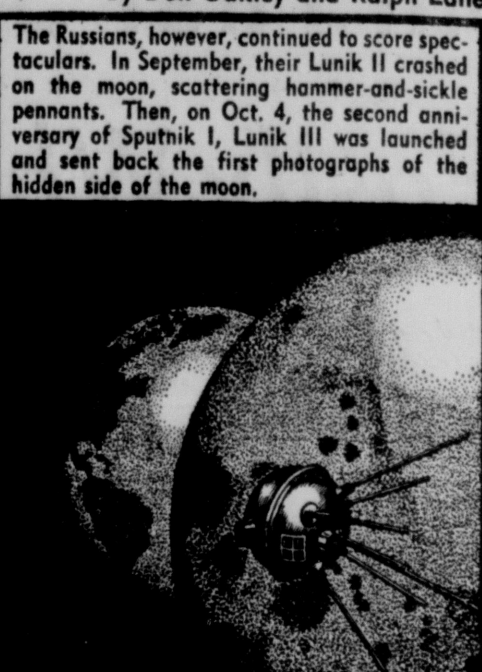

By Don Oakley and Ralph Lane

Space exploration increased its pace rapidly in 1959. Russia led off on Jan. 2 with a 770-pound probe that bypassed the moon to become the first man-made planet. In March, the U.S. Pioneer IV joined it in endless orbit around the sun. The first Discoverer satellites were launched into polar orbit from Vandenberg AFB, Calif. In April, selection of seven candidates for the Mercury man-in-space program was announced. They went into strenuous training, looking toward a possible flight in 1961.

Pioneering the way for the astronauts were the tiny monkeys Able and Baker, who came through a 300-mile ride inside a Jupiter nose cone in May. They proved that the day was not far off when man himself would venture into space.

The Russians, however, continued to score spectaculars. In September, their Lunik II crashed on the moon, scattering hammer-and-sickle pennants. Then, on Oct. 4, the second anniversary of Sputnik I, Lunik III was launched and sent back the first photographs of the hidden side of the moon.

Marietta Hands Salem First Setback of Season 30-6

Bill Beery Scores Quakers' Only TD

A fired-up Marietta team out-hustled a cooled-off Salem to post a 30-6 victory last night at Marietta.

Coach Blaine Morton's squad didn't seem to have the same zip that the Quakers displayed in their first four contests.

Marietta took advantage of the letdown and played inspired ball to chalk up its fifth straight and sixth over a period of two years.

The Tigers took the opening kickoff and marched 66 yards for their initial touchdown. The first tally was sort of a warm-up of what was to come.

SALEM HAD its brightest moment when it scored with less than a minute remaining in the half, but still trailed 14-6 at intermission.

The Quakers entertain Akron Hoban at Reilly Stadium here next Friday.

An excellent performance was turned in last night by Marietta quarterback Bill Whetsell, who led all the backs with 101 yard rushing in 15 attempts.

He kept the Quakers' defensive unit puzzled with his clever roll out maneuvers throughout the contest.

Fullback Bob Owens, who seems to improve each game, tried desperately to get the Salem attack jelling. He gained 40 yards in eight power plays.

MARIETTA KEPT Salem's running game bottled up most of the battle. The Quakers were only able to get 95 yards on the ground and were limited to 29 rushing in the second half.

The Tigers did most of the damage in the first two periods, although a pass play early in the third quarter broke the contest wide open.

Salem, down 14-0 late in the second session put on an inspired 55-yard drive to paydirt and it appeared the Quakers would come back with the same brand of football that earned them a thrilling 18-13 victory over Farrell, Pa., a week ago.

Marietta took the opening kickoff and marched 66 yards in 12 plays for its first touchdown with substitute halfback Jim Meagle dashing the final six yards for the tally.

Coach Bill Bonar's aggregation found itself in a hole when Salem's Marlin Waller got off a booming punt to the Marietta 10 in the second quarter.

The Tigers marched the 90-yard distance in seven plays with speedy halfback Jim Stewart prancing the final 36 into the end zone for a TD.

The hosts scored twice in the fourth frame. Waller punted Salem out of danger and the ball rolled dead on the Quakers' 42 early in the quarter.

THE TURNING POINT of the game was the very next play when end Bob Kane caught a pass from Whetsell and went the 42 yards for a touchdown.

Whetsell climaxed a 60 - yard, eight-play drive by sneaking one yard for a TD late in the fourth stanza. He set up the tally with a 14-yard run.

In Salem's TD drive two consecutive jump passes — Beery to Waller — set up the tally. Waller caught the two aeriels for 10 and 14 yards, respectively. Halfback Dave Taus picked up 11 yards during the offense.

Beery, who was limited to 25 yards in 14 carries, made most of his rushing yardage after shifting to a halfback in the fourth quarter.

San Francisco Shuts Out New York 2-0

Giants Even World Series; Spectacle Resumes Sunday

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—The World Series teams took a day off for travel and relaxation today after splitting the first two games at San Francisco.

Despite Jack Sanford's strong three-hit 2-0 shutout in Friday's game, the San Francisco Giants remained 9-5 underdogs with the next three games to be played in the home park of the New York Yankees starting Sunday.

Al Dark scheduled a Giant workout at Yankee Stadium to let his weary troops get their first look at the park. The Yankees also planned to limber up at home.

The weatherman predicted some rain but gave hopes for a good day Sunday, when more than 68,000 fans will jam the stadium.

Because of the contours of the stadium with its handy right field porch, so convenient for left-handed home run hitters, Dark was following the usual procedure by naming a lefty to pitch.

Billy Pierce, the former American Leaguer who had pitched often in the stadium, was saved to face right-handed Bill Stafford of the Yanks in the third game.

Pierce finished with a fine 16-6 record for the Giants, winning the first playoff game from the Los Angeles Dodgers with an 8-0 shutout and cooling off the Dodgers again with a ninth-inning relief job in the final playoff game. Despite Pierce's 12-0 record at Candlestick Park, Dark preferred to give him more rest, preparatory to a stadium appearance.

The Yanks appeared satisfied to have split even on the road. "They say if you can play 500 right," said manager Ralph Houk, "ball on the road you're doing all right. But having that last at 'The parks don't make any difference helps."

Houk won with Whitey Ford and lost with Ralph Terry in two well-pitched games. Stafford, only 24, does not measure up to either Ford or Terry off his 14-9 season record.

After the Sunday game, Houk is expected to follow with Ford and Terry. Dark said he would pitch Juan Marichal in his first series start Monday and follow with Billy O'Dell, loser of the opener.

Houk hopes that Bill Skowron and Elston Howard will be ready for action Sunday. Skowron had to leave Thursday's game due to a chronic back condition and did not play Friday. Howard was in the Friday lineup but asked out because he could not grip because of a wrist injury suffered while sliding Thursday.

Yogi Berra caught and Dale Long went to first base Friday but both are left-handed hitters and Houk would prefer right-handed swingers like Skowron and Howard in the order against Pierce.

The Broadway oddsmakers quoted the Yanks as 7-5 favorites for the Sunday game and 9-5 for the series. They made it 4-1 against the Yanks winning the next three and 12-1 against the Giants taking three straight.

Davis Plans Drills Monday; Had Leukemia

By LARRY FRIEDMAN
CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Ernie Davis was forced to the sidelines two months ago by leukemia, but he and the Cleveland Browns are making plans today for him to play again the game he loves more than anything else.

The 22-year-old prize rookie halfback of the Browns—the nation's top collegiate star with Syracuse last fall — was told Thursday night that he had the deadly blood disease, but that it was in a "perfect state of remission." The public shared this news Friday.

Whether the remission, or temporary arrest of leukemia—cancer of the blood—will continue to enable Davis to play in any of the Browns' National Football League games this season remains to be seen. Intermittent remissions are characteristic of the disease, and Davis' case is not unique, doctors say.

There is no known cure for leukemia, and those who have worked with Davis, as well as Arthur B. Modell, the Browns' president, stressed that no new and experimental drugs were used on him. The remission resulted in the course of what they described as traditional treatment and medication.

"I feel real encouraged now," said Davis, who plans to begin workouts Monday. "I can't wait to get started," the modest All-America back told newsmen Friday afternoon. Only a pound over his normal playing weight at 213, he appeared in excellent condition.

"I figure it will take me three or four weeks to get my legs and wind in shape," Davis said. "The doctors told me I'm completely normal now. After I get in good condition, it will be up to coach Paul Brown whether I can help the team or not."

Dr. Victor Ippolito, the Browns' team physician, will supervise the conditioning of the Heisman Trophy winner.

"His blood is 100 per cent normal at this time," Dr. Ippolito said.

Davis said he knew he had a serious illness and suspected it might be leukemia.

Wellsville Blasted By New Philadelphia

Wellsville suffered its fourth setback in five outings Friday as it bowed to New Philadelphia 40-6.

The host's Dale Tate proved too much for the Bengals to handle as he romped for three TD's to spark his team to victory.

Wellsville will return to action next week, entertaining Weirton Madonna.

Dave Rose Scores Two In 1st Period

Dave Rose scored two touchdowns in the first quarter and Lisbon went on to whip East Palestine 32-8 in a Tri-County League contest Friday night.

The Bulldogs, who were hosts, fumbled the opening kickoff on their own 38 to set up the Blue Devils' first TD.

Three plays after the next kickoff Rose intercepted a pass on the Palestine 40 and returned the ball to the 24, setting up the second tally.

Coach Bud Bucher's squad mixed its offensive attack well to keep the losers' defensive unit puzzled throughout most of the tilt.

The Bulldogs went 68 yards in 14 plays for their only touchdown in the third period. Halfback Dave Smith climaxed the drive by prancing the final 11 yards for the score.

LISBON POSTED ITS second straight win, and fourth in five tries. Coach Rey Dempsey's aggregation dropped its third in five starts.

Rose was the workhorse of the game as he picked up 107 yards rushing in 22 attempts. The versatile ball hawk also intercepted two East Palestine aeriels.

Lisbon looked sharp defensively in spots, but other times East Palestine was able to move the football on its stronger opponent.

Larry McPherson, who does everything well, recovered the kickoff fumble to get the Blue Devils rolling. The veteran quarterback alternated with Rose in getting Lisbon's first touchdown.

It took the Blue Devils 10 plays, which included a five-yard motion penalty, to reach paydirt, with Rose blasting up the middle for the final two yards.

Rose intercepted quarterback Ken Patton's pass, the third play following the kickoff, and he returned the pigskin to the Bulldogs' 24.

Seven plays later Rose, who carried the football five times during the drive, darted six yards for a TD, and Lisbon led 12-0 with 1:05 left in the first frame.

LISBON GOT ITS THIRD touchdown with only 55 seconds remaining in the half when halfback Tim Bucher, son of the coach, barreled over from two yards out to give the Blue Devils an 18-0 margin.

East Palestine used up seven minutes of playing time to get its TD. The Bulldogs stuck to the ground for all of the 78 yards to paydirt.

The visitors scored twice in the final period. McPherson plunged two yards for a TD to climax an 80-yard drive. Minutes later substitute halfback Roger Lowry went four yards for a touchdown to climax a 67-yard march.

Bears Nip League Foes 12-6

Last-Minute Tally Gives Leetonia Win Over Minerva

In a hard fought game Coach Ike Farrah's Leetonia Bears scored with about a minute left in the game to defeat the Minerva Lions 12-6, at the loser's field in a Tri-County League game.

The Bears scored first on an 11-yard aerial from quarterback Frank Guerrier to right end Henry Nemenz in the second quarter. The attempted conversion failed. The Lions knotted the score in the fourth quarter when fullback Frank Hayman broke through the middle on a three-yard run. The attempt for the extra point failed. Leetonia was definitely up for the tilt and came bouncing back, copping the final tally in the fourth quarter on a 10-yard run by left halfback Paul Conrad. The point-after-touchdown attempt failed.

According to the statistics, the Bears and the Lions ran about the same number of plays. Leetonia had 52 while Minerva registered 47. In the ground department, the Bears gained 192 yards rushing while the Lions were contained for 142 yards. In the aerial department, Leetonia attempted eight passes, completing four, while Minerva attempted seven passes and completed one. Through the aerial route, the Bears gained 51 yards to the Lions' 18 yards.

The Bears are now 2-1 in Tri-County league play and an overall 3-2 season mark. Leetonia will host Gambiana (2-0) next Friday. Minerva now sports a 1-2 record and an overall 3-2 season performance. The Lions are the guests of Carrollton next week.

Rips Hosts 18-8 for 1st Loop Win

Crestview Registers Victory At McDonald

Coach Dave Habeger's Crestview Rebels invaded McDonald Friday night and handed the Blue Devils their first Inter-County League loss 18-8.

The victory evens the Rebels' mark at 2-2 in loop action and gives them a 2-3 overall record. McDonald is now 2-1 in league play and 3-2 for the year.

Crestview drew first blood in the contest as they scored early in the initial period as halfback Larry Rupert toted the ball around end for a 10-yard touchdown jaunt. A ground play for the extra-points failed and the Rebels were ahead 6-0.

The host squad wasn't behind for long, however, as John Hapic took the return kickoff on his own 10-yard stripe and twisted his way for 90-yards and a touchdown. Rolly Ryan banged over for the extra-points.

Long runs seemed to be the thing of the evening as Crestview got into the win column for the second time in the first 12 minutes of play. This time it was John Creanto who shouldered the burden as he maneuvered his way through Blue Devils tacklers and sprinted 80 yards for the score.

Neither team tallied in the second canto and the Crestview boys entered the dressing room at halftime on the right end of a 12-6 score.

After a scoreless third period quarterback Jack Hoff iced the cake for the winners as he scored on a sneak play with just 10 seconds remaining in the game. Once again the try for extra-points was futile.

Crestview will return to its home field next week to entertain Salineville in a non-loop contest while the Blue Devils will entertain Mineral Ridge in another league game.

Bob Franklin Will Play For Brown Sunday

CLEVELAND (AP) — Bobby Franklin, called to duty when President Kennedy federalized the Mississippi National Guard last weekend, is back in Cleveland on a three-day pass and expects to be ready for the Cleveland Browns' game with Dallas Sunday.

The defensive halfback said his unit is camped outside Oxford, Miss.

"We checked cars at a road-block on Monday and then began the riot control taint," said Franklin.

Te Bows planned to wind up noon.

Coac Paul Brown told te hstrll believes the Browns are a good football team despite their two straight losses.

Of Sunday's contest, the coach said:

"With the attitude we've had this week zi see possibilities of playing a good game."

Tebbetts Agrees To 3-Year Contract To Manage Tribe

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Gabe Paul says Birdie Tebbetts would have been his choice all along for manager of the Cleveland Indians if he had thought Tebbetts might be available.

"This is perfect," the Cleveland Indians' general manager told newsmen after announcing Friday that Tebbetts was coming to Cleveland under a three-year contract.

"We go together like ham and eggs. This is a guy I holler at and who can holler back at me. We're going to be very happy."

Tebbetts, 50, managed the Cincinnati Reds from 1954 until 1958 while Paul was general manager. He resigned and went to the Milwaukee Braves, first as a vice president and later as manager.

"When I went to bed last night," said Tebbetts Friday, "I had no reason to think I wouldn't be managing the Braves next year."

"Then Gabe called me." Tebbetts, a catcher with the Indians in 1951 and 1952, said he agreed because "I always liked Cleveland—and Gabe. We always got along."

"He gives me hell, and I give him hell."

Asked why he left Cincinnati—and Paul—in 1958, Tebbetts gave this explanation:

"The club wasn't going as well as it should. We'd almost won the pennant in '56 and a lot of people picked us to win in '57. We wound up fourth and were still there in August of '58."

"Gabe was giving me a lot of trouble and I was giving him the same. He wanted me to play this guy and that guy, and I played who I wanted, so we went back and forth and the club was losing one, winning one."

"On Aug. 4, I went up to his office for our daily argument and I told him: 'I could use a rest. Fire me, will you.' But he didn't want to do it and he said: 'Birdie, I'd never fire you.' So I resigned. A change was needed."

"Won't Leo Durocher be surprised when he finds I've hired Birdie?" said Paul with a laugh.
NEW YORK (AP)—Birdie Tebbetts was back with his old boss, Gabe Paul, as the new manager of the Cleveland Indians today. The former Cleveland catcher resigned Friday night as manager of the Milwaukee Braves, with whom his contract still had one year to go, to accept a three-year pact at a reported $40,000 a year.

'BIRDIE' TEBBETTS When He Caught For Indians

Tebbetts, who managed Cincinnati under Paul for five years, from 1953 through most of 1958, returned to a pilot's role with Milwaukee on Sept. 3, 1961, succeeding Charlie Dressen.

Birdie had stepped down from his executive position as vice-president of the Braves at the request of club owner Lou Perini. He takes over at Cleveland from Mel McGaha, who was fired last weekend.

The Indians finished sixth under McGaha this past year after leading the league early in the season.

Tebbetts said that although he had been aware Paul talked with the Braves' front office, the offer came as a surprise because he knew the Indians' general manager had talked with Leo Durocher too.

"Gabe called me yesterday morning in San Francisco. It was about 7 o'clock. I was sound asleep."

"I asked him for a couple of days to think it over but he said he needed to know today. I told him I'd give him an answer after I called my wife."

Tebbetts immediately telephoned his wife, Mary, in Bradenton, Fla.

She replied: "Make any decision you want."

Tebbetts then telephoned McHale and told him he had decided to accept the Cleveland offer.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

A word from

at the

Country Store

I had the pleasure of getting a tour through the new South side school at Columbiana. Its a beautiful and practical new addition to their school system.

Everyone in the community should be proud of it. I know I am even though I am not in their school district.

Our community is growing and its good we have people who are preparing for it.

This year the children are saving their gold tapes for new books for their library. There is nothing like an education. I wish I had more.

posals dealing with matters which affect the welfare of all our people, in the final analysis it will depend upon the House of Representatives and the Senate to determine whether those proposals shall be accepted.

And in the present Congress, Kennedy said, the decisions have been too close for comfort, some lost by a couple of votes, some won by an equally narrow margin.

Moving on to fountain square in Cincinnati, a police official put the crowd at 80,000. Kennedy lashed out at Republicans, blaming them for the defeat of everything from medical care for the aged to temporary unemployment compensation.

Then on to Detroit, with police guessing that 100,000 lined the route from the airport to the downtown hotel where he spent the night.

Saker said Makler would have only "temporary immunity" under the procedure. He added that the special grand jury request will be made by the governor to the attorney general, and then to the court.

The grand jury then becomes the direct responsibility of the attorney general.

But atty. Gen. Mark McElroy will comply with a request of Gov. Michael V. DiSalle to appoint "a prominent Republican experienced trial lawyer" as a special assistant attorney general to conduct the investigation with the grand jury, Saker said. He did not indicate who the attorney might be.

Rep. Wayne L. Hays of Flushing is bidding for his eighth term as 18th District congressman. He is opposed by John J. Carrigan, head of the History Department at the College of Steubenville.

Both Hays and Carrigan were unopposed in the primaries.

State Sen. Edmund A. Sargus of St. Clairsville is bidding for a second term from the 20th-22nd District, opposed by Atty. Donald W. Elliott of Rogers.

The four-county district has two state senators in the current biennium, but because of periodic reapportionment the number will be cut to one for the next term.

Sen. Sargus won the nomination in May by defeating Sen. Arthur Blake of Martins Ferry, also a Democrat, who was bidding for a seventh term.

Atty. Elliott won the Republican nomination in a three-way race.

The congressional district is comprised of Columbiana, Jefferson, Carroll, Harrison and Belmont Counties. The senatorial district covers the same counties, less Carroll.

The county's seat in the State House of Representatives will be filled in the race between Rep. Clarence L. Wetzel of Lisbon, Republican bidding for his seventh term, and Atty. Lawrence W. Stacey of Columbiana, the Democratic nominee. Both were unopposed in the May primaries.

ana County construction will be two-miles from the County line. "All construction plans for north of Columbiana County line will be finished by 1965," McKenna said.

Progress for Division Four was outlined to the board of directors by Shirley Seymour and Joseph Vaght. Seymour substituted for Carl Campbell, who was ill.

In other action by the Association board of directors, it was decided that four meetings would be held with district congressman for closer liaison concerning the Interstate 11 project.

The Board of Directors approved first meeting is to be held shortly after the November elections and three other meetings will be spaced during the first part of the year and early spring.

Ribbon-cutting ceremonies also will be held in Ashtabula, when construction of the road between state Routes 80 and 20 are finished. The project has been delayed because of quicksand between the two routes, delaying completion until early next year.

The section between Route 20 and 531 is finished in Ashtabula County but won't be open to traffic until after the section between State Routes 80 and 20 is finished. The Board of Directors have approved sending a delegation to Ashtabula, when ribbon-cutting ceremonies will be held.

France

French legal authorities agree. The referendum is set for Oct. 28.

The present clash between De Gaulle and Parliament is expected to result in a showdown which could basically alter French political life. De Gaulle is said by those who know his thinking to feel that the time has come to cut away the traditional "political class" with its many splintered parties and groupings. Instead, De Gaulle is said to hope that three or four solidly based parties able to exercise discipline on their followers will result from his present test of strength.

Bruce Bickerton of Leetonia suffered abrasions of the right elbow and a slight concussion when he fell off his bicycle Friday. He was admitted to Salem City Hospital.

Driver Cited In Smash-Up At Lisbon

LISBON — Ray A. Richardson, 33, of Lisbon St., East Liverpool, was cited at 4:15 a.m. today following a collision in which a fire hydrant and light pole were struck, causing the southeast section of Lisbon to be without water until the hydrant is repaired. He was hurt only slightly.

Richardson, coming north on Route 30 into Lisbon, crossed the railroad tracks and then lost control of his car which struck a fire hydrant and light pole before plunging into a bank near Tommy's Diner.

Pickets at the strike-bound R. Thomas Co. plant overheard the motorist say he was "getting out of here" and he hitched a ride with a truck driver and was later picked up by East Liverpool police as he entered East Liverpool.

East Liverpool police took $17 from Richardson for unpaid parking tickets and turned him over to Deputy Sheriff Herman Wellman who returned him to Lisbon.

The car, a 1957 sedan, is owned by Myrtle I. Hale, 108 E. 6th St., East Liverpool, and police listed it as a complete loss.

Richardson was cited by local police for reckless operation and leaving the scene of an accident. He was released without bond for a hearing Sunday night before Mayor Dean Stockman.

Richardson was also treated and released from the East Liverpool City Hospital.

Boy, 3, Hit By Auto In Beloit

Mark Fletcher, 3, of 2650 Lake Park Blvd., Alliance, was admitted to Alliance City Hospital following an accident at Beloit Friday night.

Hit by an automobile, Fletcher's left knee and right forearm were fractured. He also received abrasions of the head and face, and possible internal injuries.

The mishap occurred when Elizabeth McDaniel, 28, of RD 2 Beloit, driving east on Lake Park Blvd. hit the boy as he attempted to cross the road. The accident is still under investigation.

agency was calling back its "project tightrope" committee of lawyers for help in general overhauling of flight safety procedures.

The committee will be asked, he said, to advise how the Federal Aviation Agency can be more effective in obtaining evidence of misconduct in the air.

Halaby said the photographic evidence produced by the flight engineers indicated that at least three pilots were inattentive to duty while commanding flights.

If the evidence is verified, he said, the FAA will take action that could include suspension or revocation of the pilot's license or a civil penalty.

Halaby said that photographs and statements by flight engineers and stewards, if verified, indicate that "a very serious condition existed in airline operations of five, four, three, two years ago and could possibly exist today."

Halaby added that he has written to the presidents of each airline and of the pilots and flight engineers unions noting the FAA findings, asking for evidence, and urging steps to prevent further violations.

Airline presidents and officials involved will meet here next week to discuss the situation with the FAA.

The photographs grew out of a dispute over whether a pilot or an engineer should hold the third place in jet cockpits.

The engineers said the photographs showed lack of attention by pilots.

C. H. Ruby, president of the Airline Pilots Association, said Friday the photographs had created a very misleading picture.

squad arrived at the cathedral in mid-Manhattan and one commented, after viewing the bombed area, "It was no accident."

The detective said it was uncertain whether the device was hurled through one of the barred basement windows or was planted for delayed explosion in a below-street-level alleyway adjacent to the residence.

Police speculated that the explosion, heard for blocks around, was caused by one or more fire-cracker-type devices such as a "cherry bomb."

Later, however, bomb squad experts found in the alleyway several grayish-white stubs which they said had the characteristics of dynamite casings. The residual matter was taken to a police laboratory.

4-H Advisers to Attend Banquet, Hear Rev. Deitch

The Rev. Harold Deitch of the Salem First Christian Church will be guest speaker at the annual adviser's 4-H recognition banquet Thursday at 7:15 p.m. at Crestview High School, according to Floyd Lower, county extension agent in agriculture.

The Rev. Frank Hare will be the toastmaster; Kathy Karnofel of Willowettes 4-H club will give the invocation; Jim Reed will lead group singing, accompanied by Mrs. Leo Zarnosky. Vocal duets will be given by Gene Ann Wadsworth and Sue Harsh of Jolly Workers and Jolly Stitches 4-H clubs, respectively.

Gold, silver and bronze awards will be given to the honor clubs in the county for last year's work, Lower said.

spokesman said.

The Western Powers claim the right of free movement throughout the divided city. The action today was a clear rejection of that right.

A British ambulance was stationed at Checkpoint Charlie because this is the month for the British to be in charge of the Allied command in West Berlin.

The East guards refused to let the ambulances through with the explanation that they considered themselves responsible under international law.

Nothing was known of the fate of the wounded man.

The tunnel had been driven from under a restaurant in West Berlin for a distance of 185 feet. One of nine men who had been working on it for three weeks said the diggers of the 27-inch tunnel broke through on the East side near Heidelberger Strasse and Elsenstrasse about 5 a.m.

The breakthrough was in the apartment of a tailor and his wife. Still in their nightclothes, the couple made their way through the tunnel to West Berlin.

Somehow, East police learned of the tunnel.

Accounts differed as to how many were in the apartment when the police arrived.

One member of the group that dug the tunnel said there were only two people in the apartment, a 21-year-old West Berliner known as "Brille" (eyeglasses), who was shot down, and another West Berlin youth who ran back through the tunnel. Another account said several persons were inside.

Those inside kept silent at first when the doorbell rang, but when the bell rang in the rhythm agreed upon as a signal that other refugees were outside "Brille" opened the door and the police began shooting.

Congressmen

in no hurry to call a meeting for that purpose.

President Kennedy's departure from Washington for a weekend of political barnstorming was almost enough in itself to keep Congress around several more days. He left without acting on a bill to give a tax break to self-employed persons who set up approved pension plans.

The pension bill's backers fear a veto and are determined to keep Congress in session until the deadline for a presidential veto expires next Wednesday. They are confident they can override a veto.

The peanut controversy swirls around the $417-million appropriation for the Agriculture Department. The Senate added $25 million for research projects in several states, including a $1.6 million peanut marketing laboratory in Dawson, Ga. The House has refused to go along with the Senate and no break in the stalemate is in sight.

The agriculture measure is one of six money bills that must be passed before adjournment. The others carry funds for the foreign aid program, the District of Columbia, federal public works programs, the State, Justice and Commerce Departments, and a group of miscellaneous agencies.

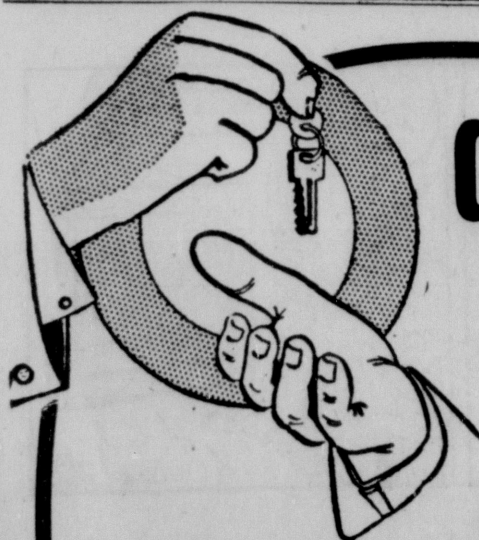

All but the latter measure have passed both branches, but in different form. This final money bill has been cleared by the House only and can't be sent to the Senate floor before Monday. Purely technical objections could block a Senate vote before Thursday, the day now picked by congressional optimists for final adjournment.
